Welcome to the MBDs 2020

Dear MBD Participant,

on behalf of the Maastricht Business Days Committee 2020, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 26th edition of Maastricht University's biggest recruitment event. The MBDs are a platform for students and businesses to get to know each other and extend their network through different activities such as workshops, interviews, presentations, recruitment dinners, networking drinks and a company fair.

First, I would like to thank all participating business partners. It is an honor to have such a diverse portfolio of businesses at our event which makes the MBDs so special. On the following pages of this Day Booklet, we are happy to introduce each of the participating companies in more detail. I do hope that we can meet your expectations regarding this event, and we are looking forward to seeing you at successive MBD editions.

Second, I would like to congratulate all students who signed up for the MBDs. This event is an outstanding opportunity to initiate your individual career paths. Take this chance and use this platform to go a step further in your academic career by getting in touch with prestigious and international companies.

Finally, I would like to thank everyone who was involved in realizing this incredible event. The MBDs would not take place without you and I am very grateful for the dedicated team that performed excellent work to make the event happen. I would like to thank SCOPE for all their help, especially Nora Dorsman, who supported us through all stages of the event. But my specific thank is of course for my fellow committee members. Thank you, Fabienne Fritzsching, Ramin Schübel, Roan Oostveen, Kevin Shi and Fabian Dieterich for your outstanding performance. I appreciate all your effort and hard work that you put in this project and I am proud of this excellent result, the Maastricht Business Days 2020.

With this year's slogan "Your Future is calling", we would like to encourage you to answer the call towards your future. Please do not hesitate to contact any of the committee members, business partners or team members for remaining questions.

Welcome from the Dean

School of Business and Economics

Dear Sir, Madame,

On behalf of Maastricht University's School of Business and Economics, it is my honour to invite you to SCOPE's Maastricht Business Days 2020. Over the last two decades, SCOPE has grown to be the official study association of the SBE, thereby facilitating the interaction of our ambitious students and the corporate world.

As part of the SBE Career and Development Days, the MBDs are the largest recruitment event in the South of the Netherlands. It offers a tremendous platform to connect organisations with their future employees. A varied program provides businesses with an array of possibilities to get to know our students in a unique ambience, aligned with an exceptional level of professionalism.

"Your Future is calling" is the slogan chosen for this year's Maastricht Business Days. It portrays the main purpose of the event, to provide future employees the ability to determine the direction of their professional life starting from the day the event takes place to their first day on the job. By participating in the Maastricht Business Days 2020, both preeminent companies and academically talented students will be able to interact and shape a successful future!

Therefore, I personally recommend your business to participate in the Maastricht Business Days 2020. Take part and help us to enable students to answer the call. I am looking forward to welcoming you on the 11th and 12th of March 2020.

With kind regards,
On behalf of the faculty board,

Prof. dr Peter Møllgaard
Dean of the School of Business and Economics of Maastricht University

About the MBDs

The history of the Maastricht Business Days began in 1996. Back then, the former marketing association MMD took the initiative to organize the first company days at Maastricht University. After several brainstorming sessions, the name T.I.P. (Toekomst in Praktijk) Company Days was born. After that, three other study associations, namely Argyris, Future and Comax, joined the T.I.P. foundation. The T.I.P. has now become a separate foundation of the study association SCOPE Maastricht and the successful event was renamed into Maastricht Business Days. In 2006, the prestigious recruitment event was extended into a two-day version and is since then known as the biggest recruitment event of south Limburg.

This year, the MBDs are celebrating the 26th edition. The attending business partners are major international players from various industries, with some of them already attending for several years. The event has earned a great reputation among all parties involved and offers students of the School of Business and Economics an excellent platform to initiate their future career paths.

Today, the MBD Committee 2020 is happy to host this year's event and give you the opportunity to pick up the phone since your future is calling.

Academic & Career Counselling Office

The SBE Student Advising and Academic Counselling (SA-AC) team has on average 4000 meaningful contacts with about 2500 students, on a yearly basis. This experience along with the expertise of the SA-AC team is utilized to offer individual feedback as well as workshops on a range of personal and academic related issues. There is particular emphasis given to the employability of our students. At a time when the 360 degrees feedback and reflection have a major place at personnel evaluations within companies, learning to use tools like e-portfolio and having someone to assist-coach you in the development of your competences (e.g. Premium Program) is of outright importance. Therefore, the SA-AC team is available not only to respond to your academic related questions but also to ask you the right questions on the path of your personal and professional development.

Study advice

- Study planning, progress, opportunities and delay
- Personal circumstances affecting your study, individual arrangements in case of functional impairments, personal circumstances or top sport
- Study skills: time management, studying of literature, memorization, exam preparation, thesis support

Academic and Career Counselling

- Individual counselling- coaching / choices in / personalization of curriculum
- Development of academic competences
- Labor market preparation and employability
- Career options, labor market perspectives, building a professional profile
- Different workshops, e.g. the labor market matrix

Internship Office

The Internship Office of the School of Business and Economics (SBE) is here to help students receive (extra) curricular credits for their internship and help them with administrative issues. An internship will be a valuable addition to the student's curriculum of his/her Bachelor or Master program at SBE.

Every year approximately 200 bachelor students and 35 master students do an internship at companies such as Philips, Nike, Henkel, P&G, Twitter or Nestlé.

With the start of the academic year 2014/2015 a new specialization has been introduced within the bachelor programs International Business and Economics and Business Economics called Emerging Markets. Emerging Markets explores the rising economic powers in Asia, Latin America, Africa and Eastern Europe. During your third year you will not go on an exchange abroad but instead will do an international internship in an emerging market.

As of the academic year 2015/2016 master students have the option to combine their thesis with a part-time internship (Thesis Internship Program: TIP) during their master's program. The internship will have a duration of 3 - 6 months and will take place at a regional company.

Alumni Office

Welcome to the Alumni Network of Maastricht University School of Business and Economics, an international, growing network with more than 16.000 alumni working and living all over the world.

The SBE Alumni community provides excellent opportunities on behalf of career development, life long learning and staying connected with your alma mater.
